

LOCAL ROUNDUPS

ANDY RICHARDSON attended divine service at this camp on last Sabbath.

NEXT WEEK THE LEADER will be a year old. Pretty lusty for her age, ain't she?

NEXT week will be the last in which folks can read unpaid for copies of the LEADER.

THE Hudgens' and Bruton Bros and Langston, started Monday for the Sacramento Mountains. Bon trip.

CLARK'S Mill is this week working on select ore from the South Homestake. Look out for report of next clean up.

O. P. BURR left on Wednesday on a trip to Socorro, there to arrange with the Billing's smelter to work on his Rosa mine ore.

LAST Monday evening at 6 o'clock the Jewish New Year set in. The Christian New Year, will lack just eighteen hours of being three months later.

THE mail coach has arrived from two to eight hours late every morning this week owing to the darkness which prevails of nights, and the heavy roads.

THE TALLER family is happy once more. Mrs. T., who has been visiting in Illinois for some three months past, returned on Thursday. Welcome back.

JACOB MILLER, is erecting a mammoth livery stable and corral on the ally and corner of Pine St., near the LEADER office. When completed it will be a stunner.

THE Baxter Mountain poet Wants all the world to know it. That the lies Patterson has told Of finding here and there gold, Unless in the Rita, And there he found may poquito.

TO-day we propose taking a long contemplated trip to the Nogals, Bonito and Mesclero Reservations, for our own recreation and the benefit of our readers. Our absence will only be of some four day's duration.

OZANE & ANDERSON have moved their saw-mill half a mile farther up the arroyo, and located it in close proximity to an inexhaustible supply of water and as fine a body of timber as one could wish for. The mill will be ready for operation about a week hence.

WE were much pleased and instructed this week in reading a lengthy account of a trip from White Oaks to the Mesclero Reservation and return, written in the happiest vein of our friend E. Hough. We would like to publish it, but its extreme length prevents it and pruning would mangle it. The article appeared in the "American Field" of Sept., 22.

AS we stated some time since, Amos Eilers held but a brief citizenship in White Oaks, and went back to his old ranch on the Bonito, inspiring cause of his removal however, being an arrangement made while here with Robt. S. Black, who lately sold his fine ranch on the Pedasco, to Billy Matthews. This arrangement implied a partnership, and on Monday Eilers & Black of the future pulled out of White Oaks en route from Las Vegas for the Bonito with a caravan of goods with which to stock a store. Both are intelligent, worthy gentlemen, who deserve, and we doubt not will secure success.

THE following named gentlemen among others have been summoned as jurors to appear and serve at the District Court to be held at Lincoln on the 12th inst.

A WHITE OAKS MAN Shot, and Dies.

LITTLE MAC.

A few short months ago a carpenter named R. S. Hedges, came to White Oaks with his family, and settled among us, working hard and steadily at his trade, until one day last week he started for Carthage on business. A few evenings ago he was attending a saloon bar for a friend who was under the influence of drink. During the evening the saloon-keeper and a miner known as "Reddy," got into an altercation and Hedges stepped between the belligerents to stop the fight, when he received a shot from Reddy's pistol which shattered one leg near the thigh, and wounded the other. Reddy fled and has not been captured. Hedges was taken to comfortable quarters, where his leg was amputated, but the shock was such that death alone could relieve him, and he died on Thursday morning.

What renders the death most sad is the fact that his wife is left penniless in a strange community, and with an infant scarcely six weeks old, a dependent wholly upon him who is a husband to the widow and a father to the orphan, and those from out of whose hearts the precious teachings of the Master are not shut out.

How Sheriff Poe of Lincoln County Follows up an Escaped Prisoner.

Just one year and a half ago a negro named Logwood murdered a sheep herder in Lincoln county and with the assistance of confederates, attempted to drive off the herd of sheep which his victim had charge of. The murder was detected, however, the property recovered and the author of the crime lodged in the county jail, which is situated in the village of Lincoln.

Only a few weeks after Logwood had been incarcerated, a man, charged with the murder of a soldier, who was quartered at Fort Stanton, a military post near the town of Lincoln, determined to avenge his death, organized a mob, took out the man and hung him. Logwood and the other inmates of the jail took advantage of the confusion and escaped. Nothing was ever heard of the whereabouts of the murderer until some influential business men of this city discovered that he was working at Ft. Union. This intelligence was communicated to Sheriff John Poe, of Lincoln county, an active man and a brave officer, who at once corresponded with the gentlemen until there was no doubt in his mind but that the Logwood at Ft. Union was identical with the escaped murderer. With a team of mules and a light wagon the sheriff drove from Lincoln county to Las Vegas at the rate of 60 miles per day and arrived in this city last night. He did not stop, but changed horses and pushed on to Fort Union. The officer has been very quiet in his movements and it is not at all likely that the man Logwood has any suspicions of his design. Ere this he is probably in custody and on the road to this. It captured, the murderer will be taken to Lincoln county and lodged in jail until his trial takes place. [The above is from the Las Vegas Optic of last Thursday. Poe got his man.]

THE South Homestake is again developing. Work commenced on Monday, under Henry Patterson. But four men are as yet employed, but as soon as the opening is increased a full force will be put to work, which will probably be next week. Some beautiful rich ore, out of which free gold returns the look of naked eye, has been developed.

A PAPER published at Las Cruces speaking of a concert given there by a party which recently visited White Oaks, says, should it ever return there the citizens will present them with a three-story brick house—a brick at a time.

Another Rich Strike.

Thursday night the richest strike ever made in the Territory was developed in the "Little Mac." We saw specimens of the ore, which could scarcely be called such, as it had in its native bed disassociated itself from dross and appeared in virgin purity. It must have been such as Jack Winters, who is said by many to have been the first to discover gold in Baxter Mountain, gathered and threw over his shoulder as grass, until he finally he thought himself that he had got too deep for herbage, and putting on his glasses discovered wires of gold which he had disdained, and the rejected ore became the foundation of the Baxter Mountain and White Oaks temple.

We did not see the specimens until nearly ready for press yesterday. (Friday) and cannot elaborate. Suffice it to say, no expert ever saw superior, if he did equal specimens, and the lead promises to produce extensively.

WE perceive that some of the papers published at El Paso and Cruces are intimating that there will not be a term of court held in this county in October, on account of the condition of Judge Bristol's health. We are sorry to learn of his Honor's indisposition, and hope that he will recover in time to give us our October session. Our county occupies an enviable position in so many things now, that make us proud, that we wish to keep up her prestige, which is so materially aided by the regularity of our terms of court. The semi-annual meeting of our grand jury, clothed with the power to investigate crime, is very necessary to aid our sheriff in seeing that the laws are respected and obeyed. The jail at Lincoln now holds several persons charged with serious violations of the law—viz: one horse thief found in possession of the stolen property. One party charged with rape, and three under an indictment for assault with intent to kill. Besides the other parties out on bail, charged with deadly assaults, and the two soldiers under guard at Fort Stanton charged with the murder of Pearl. The parties in jail are an expense to the county which would cease with a term of court. There are, we learn quite a number of civil cases on the common law docket, among the number, several very important cases from this camp involving the titles to valuable mines, the settlement of which would give an impetus to our camp. We suppose the rumors referred to are premature, and we are confident that Judge Bristol will be on hand on the 15th of this month, if it is possible.

WE learn that a sergeant implicated in the lynching of Pearl near Lincoln, last winter, has concluded to turn "informer," and that in consequence his associates in the crime have deserted, so that at the hour of trial, Carey—we mean the informing Sergeant, will stand alone to confront the majesty of the law, which should frown deeply and darkly upon him, first for defying it, and then for "peaching on his pals."

THE grass product of this immediate vicinity is greater than many of the most observant imagine it to be. At present there are about 25 machines to the south-west of us and as many more to the north-east all employed in cutting grass. Each machine will easily clip 30 tons, which will aggregate 1,500 tons. The value of this hay, in the aggregate, would or will be $30 per ton, or $45,000. Fully as much more grass will be saved in other parts of the county, making an aggregate tonnage of 3,000 tons and $90,000. Of course some hay will be sold cheaper, but our estimate is $4 per ton lower than the lowest bid accepted at Ft. Stanton. The late rain had a damaging effect upon grass already cut, but not particularly so, if it was at once spread out to the influence of the sun, save perhaps in appearance. But the effect on grass not cut, will more than compensate.

WE have received a work entitled "Historical sketches of New Mexico," being the product of the brain and pen of Hon. J. Bradford Prince of Santa Fe, and running from the days of the pioneer, aborigines to the war and conquest of 1847. From first to last it reads like a romance, and is plethoric with instruction. It is magnificently bound and is sold for $1.50 per copy. The author desires an agent in Lincoln county, and any one desiring to take hold, can get terms on application at this office.

Two aged uncles of Ed. R. Bonnell, residents of Lee County Iowa, arrived here on a visit to their respected nephew, by Friday's stage.

LATE advices from Red Cloud were to the effect that the Buckhorn, is turning out at each and every blast large deposits of the richest ore ever seen in the Territory.

THE following States will hold general elections this fall: Ohio and Iowa on the second Tuesday in October, and Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania on the second Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Of these States Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Ohio elect governors; the others only minor officers.

Gen. Sherman will retire from the head of the army November 1. Gen. Sheridan will then take command with headquarters at Washington. It is believed Gen. Pope will succeed Sheridan in command at Chicago.
